

Not sure which DukeEngage program to apply for?

Here are some things to think about. Come by during drop-in advising to discuss your questions with a DukeEngage staff member!

First of all...

- Try to attend the DukeEngage Month presentations for programs you are interested in. If you can't, feel free to write to the program leader(s).
- Do you have any constraints re: program dates?
- Are you hoping to use DukeEngage to fulfill a curricular requirement? See the Curricular Connections page on our website for details.

Why are you interested in DukeEngage? What are your goals?

Which service themes are you interested in?

Given all of the above, which DukeEngage programs (including independent projects) are most interesting to you, and why?

Here are some other factors to consider/compare:

	Program/Project A	Program/Project B	Program/Project C
Is there a language requirement/other prereqs?
What are the placements like? Direct service or advocacy/research/capacity building? Indoor or out? Etc
What skills would you bring?
What is the community like?
What are the housing/living conditions?
What is the level of independence? (Would you be with a group most of the time, or not?)
Are there academic connections?
What impression do you get from previous students' blog posts?

Now... Come see us during drop-in advising – we'd love to talk through your questions! We'll also be glad to refer you to a student "alum" for any program/independent project.
